

School of Humanities
The Department of Visual & Dramatic Arts

Private EYES by Steven Dietz

November 7-8, 8:00 p.m.
November 9, 2:00 p.m.
November 13-15, 8:00 p.m.

Directed by Julia Traber
Hamman Hall

Tickets:
General Admission, $10
Rice Alumni, Staff, Faculty, & Senior Citizen, $8
Students, $5

Opening night only: $5!
For tickets, call: 713-348-PLAY

PRIVATE EYES is the first collaborative production between the Rice University Theatre Program and the Rice Players. Additional funding for this production is being provided by the Department of Visual and Dramatic Arts.

Contact:

Christina Keefe, Director – Rice Theatre Program
Catherine Bratic, Managing Coordinator – Rice Players
Ck1@rice.edu
Catherine.e.bratic@rice.edu

Rice Players and the Department of Visual and Dramatic Arts Theatre Program presents
Private Eyes by Steven Dietz
Directed by Julia Traber

Private Eyes is a comedy of suspicion in which nothing is ever quite what it seems. Who is really having an affair with whom? Or is it all part of the play that's being rehearsed? Or, is it, for that matter, an elaborate therapy session? The audience itself plays the role of detective in this hilarious "relationship thriller" about love, lust and the power of deception.

The Rice Players, Rice's oldest collegiate theatre troupe, has teamed up with the Department of Visual and Dramatic Arts Theatre Program for our first collaboration. The completely student run company has teamed up with other groups in the past, but this is the first co-production with the new Theatre Program, uniting two of the biggest theater groups with the most resources on Rice campus for the first time.

RICE PLAYERS

RICE THEATRE PROGRAM
DEPARTMENT OF VISUAL & DRAMATIC ARTS

The director, Julia Traber has just been named the Associate Artistic Director of the Classical Theatre Company. Ms. Traber has worked as an actor, assistant director, director, and teaching artist for various local and regional professional theatres and educational institutions including: Alley Theatre, Milwaukee Repertory Theater, Houston Shakespeare Festival, Children's Theatre Festival, Main Street Youth Theatre, The Texas Repertory Theatre Co., Unhinged Productions, Unity Theatre, and the University of Houston. She created and directed the Alley Theatre's Young Performers Studio for several seasons and is currently a drama specialist for the International Baccalaureate program in the Aldine Independent School District and an adjunct faculty member of the Drama Department at San Jacinto College, South Campus.

Performances are Friday November 7th - 8th at 8pm, Sunday November 9th at 2pm; Thursday November 13th - 15th at 8pm. Tickets: Students $5, Rice Faculty, Staff & Senior Citizens $8, General Audience $10. Performances are at Hamman Hall. Tickets are available in advance by calling 713-348-PLAY or visiting <http://arts.rice.edu>. For Rice Players info: <http://players.rice.edu>.